Before: BATCHELDER, Chief Judge; COLE and GIBBONS, Circuit Judges.

Defendant Keyon Gibson appeals his conviction of possession of a firearm by a felon. Gibson and the government jointly move for a remand to the district court for resentencing.

At sentencing, Gibson was found to be an Armed Career Criminal under 18 U.S.C. § 924(e) after the district court determined that his criminal history included three serious drug offenses. These offenses were two prior adult convictions for delivery or manufacture of cocaine and a juvenile adjudication under state law for possession with intent to deliver cocaine. The government now concedes that Gibson's state juvenile adjudication does not qualify as a serious drug offense for the purposes of § 924(e). The parties jointly move for a remand to permit the district court to consider the government's position and to resentence Gibson accordingly.

In light of the concession by the government and the agreement of the parties, a remand for resentencing is warranted. The joint motion is GRANTED, the judgment is vacated, and the case is remanded to district court for resentencing.
